President Richard
Alway 672

Acting on the strong recommendation of a presidential review committee, the Very Reverend Robert Barringer, C.S.B., Superior General of the Basilian Fathers, has renewed the appointment of Richard Alway as President of the University of St. Michael's College for a second term.

In accepting the appointment Dr. Alway spoke of the financial challenge facing St.

Michael's, and emphasized its desire to continue its close working relationship with the University of Toronto in matters of mutual concern, and particularly in the University's planned financial appeal scheduled to begin in 1997. The President went on to point out that "the next few years must see the stabilisation of our financial position so that St. Michael's can continue to serve Ontario's largest demographic group within the University of Toronto."

Dr. Alway further stated that it was a privilege to serve as President "of an institution so central to the future of the Church in

Young Alumni news and events for 1996

Once again this year Santa Claus found time in his very busy schedule to stop by Brennan Lounge in the Odette Centre on his way to Toronto's 19 November Santa Claus Parade. Most of his little friends (alumni, children of alumni, and students) attended the student Mass in the College Chapel first and then gathered for hot chocolate and cookies in the lounge, where Santa made a surprise visit, distributing candy canes and chatting with many of the children. Unfortunately, due to his other pressing commitments, he could stay for only a short while; he joins the day's organizers in thanking all who attended.

Faculty of Theology Convocation

Cardinal Gerald Emmett Carter, Chancellor of the University of St. Michael's College and Archbishop Emeritus of Toronto, presided over the fortieth Theology Convocation of the University of St. Michael's College on 25 November 1995.

St. Basil's Church was filled with family, faculty, and other friends of the fifty successful candidates as Cardinal Carter presented Diplomas in Theology and in Religious Studies and conferred degrees of Doctor of Philosophy in Theology, Master of Arts in Theology, and Master of Theological Studies. In conferring the joint St. Michael's-University of Toronto degrees of Doctor of Theology, Doctor of Ministry, Master of Theology, Master of Divinity, and Master of Religious Education, Cardinal Carter was joined by Professor Paul Gooch, Vice Provost, representing Mrs. Rose Wolfe, Chancellor of the University of Toronto.

Cardinal Carter conferred the degree Doctor of Sacred Letters honoris causa upon Canadian Novelist Sheila Watson and the degree Doctor of Divinity honoris causa upon Monsignor Dennis Murphy ST6, Educator, Episcopal Advisor, and Member of the recent Ontario Royal Commission on Education. Elizabeth McLuhan, daughter of the late Marshall McLuhan and long-time friend, accepted the degree for Dr. Watson, whose health made it impossible for her to be present. In his Convocation address Monsignor Murphy stressed the importance and the need in our time of a spiritual component in education.

'95-'96 Annual Fund — a ways to go yet!

The 1995-96 St. Michael's Annual Fund campaign ends on 30 April, and we have over $100,000 yet to raise to meet our goal of $600,000. This money is already counted upon in this year's budget for Chaplaincy, Kelly Library book acquisitions, scholarships, and salaries for professors teaching the special St. Michael's academic College Programmes in Christianity and Culture and in Celtic Studies. That is a sign of the College's confidence and trust in you!

Enough has been said about cuts in government support; they are a reality with which we must deal, but we need your assistance. Put simply, St. Michael's needs your help to insure the continuation and development of its tradition of excellence in Catholic higher education.

To those who have already made a '95-'96 Annual Fund gift, many thanks; to those who have not yet responded to our appeals, please do so; your support is crucial! If you have not received an appeal form and wish to donate, send your gift to "St. Michael's Annual Fund", Alumni Office, 81 St. Mary St., Toronto, Ont., MSS 1J4. A receipt for tax purposes will be issued. PLEASE HELP!!

James M. Cameron

Professor James M. Cameron died peacefully in Wellesley Hospital, Toronto, on 14 December after suffering a stroke several days before. He had spent his final years of retirement in Toronto, maintaining an office at St. Michael's and often having lunch in the College's faculty dining room.

Professor Cameron came to Toronto in 1971, appointed the first University of St. Michael's College Professor. A graduate of Balliol College, Oxford, he taught at the Universities of Southampton, Leicester, and Leeds. He was Visiting Professor at the University of Notre Dame, Indiana, and at Newman College in the University of Melbourne, Australia, and the Terry Lecturer at Yale University. He came to St. Michael's after serving as Professor of Philosophy and Master of Rutherford College, University of Kent at Canterbury, England.

In presenting Professor Cameron for the St. Michael's degree of Doctor of Sacred Letters honoris causa in November of 1990, Professor Margaret O'Gara spoke of him as "a man who stands in the Catholic intellectual tradition that holds together thought and faith." The students, faculty, and others who came to know Professor Cameron as teacher, colleague, mentor and friend can certainly echo those words.

In his homily at the Mass of Resurrection celebrated for Professor Cameron in St. Bas-il's Church on 6 January of this year, Father Charles Leland, C.S.B., a colleague and close friend, described succinctly the man who had contributed greatly to the life of St. Michael's. "Professor Cameron was a man for all seasons: scholar, essayist, poet, one-time political activist, creative thinker, administrator. But I think that none of these categories actually defines our friend. He was a man worth more than the sum total of his parts. His ultimate greatness lies beyond and above. Professor Cameron was a believer, a man of deep faith.... In these times of complexity and confusion, it is heartening to come across straightforward spirituality: loving God, loving family and friends, ever walking humbly with the Lord. Erudition James Cameron had in abundance but always coupled with 'a right state of heart.'"

Professor Paulette Collet and La troupe des anciens save a great St. Michael's tradition

By Julie McLaughlin 7T4

In days gone by, the stories tell us, a wizard could sit in his tower and view the world through an enchanted window. The window of the booth in the St. Michael's Theatre is not unlike those enchanted windows of Faerie, since from that vantage point a stage manager can see and hear a world of activity. Theatre is always magic. Amateur theatre—in the best and truest sense of the word “amateur”—is an even more powerful enchantment as it brings together people from a host of worlds and lives to create and share a creative, dramatic experience with an audience and with each other. This year's St. Michael's French production of La Cantatrice Chauve and Le Médecin Malgré Lui on 25, 26, 27 of January was a magical event in more ways than one.

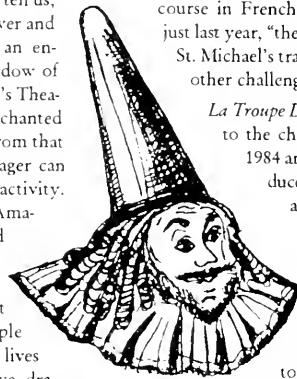

It was twenty-seven years ago, with the production of Molière's L'Amour Médecin, that a St. Michael's Professor, Madame Paulette Collet, began what has become an impressive and treasured campus cultural tradition. Since then, there has been a theatrical production in French every year. What began with St. Michael's students in front of paper flats illuminated by a half-dozen flood-lights grew to a French Department credit course, “Staging Moliere,” drawing on talent from the entire UofT campus. The venue has changed over the years—St. Basil's College, Upper Brennan, the U.C. Playhouse, and the “New Vic.” With the opening of the theatre in Alumni Hall at St. Michael's, “the French Play” found a more permanent home, as well as the complexities of sound, lights, and stage rigging. However, when the formal structure of a credit course in French theatre came to an end just last year, “the French Play” (and a great St. Michael's tradition) was faced with another challenge.

La Troupe Des Anciens was an answer to the challenge. Twice before, in 1984 and in 1987, plays were produced by Mme Collet with all alumni casts, and now, drawing on a quarter century of theatre history and experience, this dynamic teacher and director assembled a cast and crew to continue the production of “the French Play” at St. Michael's. The process of preparation involved juggling an array of personal schedules and commitments so people could come back to St. Mike's for another round of acting, set building, costuming, and set decor; in other words, it involved allowing people to come back to our theatrical roots.

For La Troupe Des Anciens it has been an incredible opportunity to work and play together, and to continue to learn from Professor Collet, an incomparable teacher-director. The tradition of “the French play” will, we trust, continue at St. Michael's for years to come, always “plus fort,” always “avec énergie.” And that is the magic of the theatre—the life, the energy, and even the fun!

(Ed's note: Julie McLaughlin has been involved in “the French Play” as actress, make-up person, lighting designer since 1973; of late she has been the stage-manager. Audiences of over 200 attended each performance.)

and as a member of the International Methodist/Roman Catholic Dialogue and National Lutheran/Roman Catholic Dialogue have earned him international respect as a ecumenist.

Father Brown is an award-winning author of over twenty-five books, The Birth of the Messiah (New Updated Edition, 1993) and The Death of the Messiah (2 Vols., 1994), both published by the Anchor Bible Reference Library, being among his most recent and well-known. He has also co-edited the highly regarded The New Jerome Biblical Commentary (Prentice-Hall, 1990).

The title of the 1996 Kelly Lecture is “The Passion and Death of Jesus: Issues Biblical, Historical, and Theological” and will deal with proclaiming the passion and death of Christ, with special attention to the issue of anti-Judaism.

There will be a reception with light refreshments in the lounge of the Odette Centre following the lecture. Admission is free.

CAMPUS NOTES

-Partially supported by the St. Michael's Annual Fund, the St. Michael's Debating Union entered two teams in the sixteenth World Championship Debating Contest held from 27 December to 4 January at University College, Cork, Ireland. The novice team of Patrick O'Leary and Jeff Kraemer placed in the top half of the contending teams. Graduating students Michael Doyle and Mark Slade finished 51st in the field of 360 teams from around the world; they were eliminated in their round against Oxford and the University of Edinburgh. A very creditable performance by members of a very active Debating Union.

-Beginning on 7 November, students, faculty and staff joined each winter Tuesday in the St. Michael's Chaplaincy's "Out of the Cold" programme in St. Basil's Parish Hall to provide a hot lunch, warmth, and welcome to those in need.

-Along with helping with the planning of and taking part in the Celtic Festival at Harbour Front last August, the faculty, staff, and students of our Celtic Studies Programme organized, hosted, and took part in a day-long conference on Celtic Music and Folklore which attracted more than 100 participants to the campus on 21 October. Professor David Wilson of the Celtic Studies Programme has recently published Ireland, A Bicycle and a Tin Whistle (McGill-Queen's University Press), which has been nominated for a Stephen Leacock Humour Award and for a Trillium Award.

-The project in the film production course taught by Professor Gino Matteo 5T9 won first prize in T.V. Ontario's student film competition. This is the fourth time a project of this course has won an award.

◀Professor Derek De Kerckhove, member of the French Department and Director of the UofT's McLuhan Programme in Culture and Technology has recently had his book The Skin of Culture: Investigating the New Electronic Reality published by Somerville House Press. The book, and Professor De Kerckhove's work in the McLuhan Programme, have recently been receiving a good deal of attention in the media—the message is good!

-Bill Lombardo, Chef Manager of St. Michael's Food Services Department, has co-authored a cookbook, Cheap Thrills Cuisine with Chef Peppi: A collection of quick, tasty, creative recipes, based on his Washington Post's "Cheap Thrills Cuisine," a recipe cartoon strip syndicated in over ninety newspapers worldwide.

-On 29 September 1995 President Richard Alway and His Excellency Anthony Tonnos 5T6, Bishop of Hamilton and Chairman of the Catholic Health Association of Ontario awarded the St. Michael's Continuing Education Division's first Certificates in Catholic Health Care Leadership. The eight awardees, who began the Certificate programme in 1993, are senior executives in Ontario Catholic hospitals located from Chatham to Thunder Bay.

1994-95 UofT TD

Affinity Visa Card report

With 1,244 users in '94-'95, St. Mike's was fourth among all the constituencies in the UofT, behind Erindale College, Scarborough College, and the Faculty of Engineering. St. Michael's users of their UofT TD Affinity Visa card brought $5,797 to St. Michael's, the third largest amount among the other UofT constituencies. Where does the money go? It helps buy needed new books for the Kelly Library.

Thank you to all who use their UofT Affinity TD Visa Card.

If you are interested in the programme, call the Alumni Office, 416-926-7260, for information and an application form.

"Secure the Tradition" Appeal Report

Since the launch of the "Secure the Tradition" appeal in November 1993, graduates, students, faculty, staff, and other friends of St. Michael's have committed $6.2 million toward the five-year target of $6.5 million. Funds received are being used to offset the increase in our deficit resulting from the cancellation of the Bay Street land sale. As has been reported in previous issues, St. Michael's intends to sell the development parcel as soon as the market permits a reasonable return, and to use the proceeds to retire our debt and fortify our endowment.

$300,000 is needed to reach our final goal. St. Michael's is deeply grateful to those who are participating in this appeal for their enthusiasm and generosity. Those who have not yet joined the effort may do so by mailing a donation to the Office of the President, St. Michael's College, 81 St. Mary Street, Toronto, Ont., M5S 1J4. For further information, please contact Director of Development, Maude McCarty, at 416/926-7261.

We beg their pardon and that of any others whose names were inadvertently left off that list, and we express gratitude for their continuing support.

Admission to St. Michael's College

By Father R.T. O'Halloran, CSB 5T5
Registrar, St. Michael's College

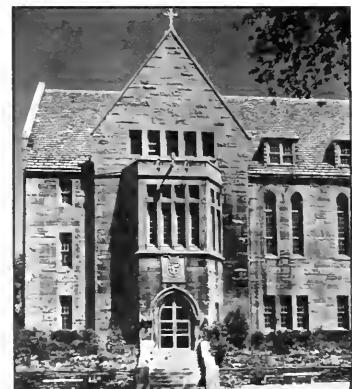

Each year we invite alumni to inform us of their son's or daughter's application to St. Michael's College. With advance written notice of an application, the Registrar's Office can ensure the admission to St. Michael's of a candidate who meets the requirements for admission to the Faculty of Arts and Science at the University of Toronto and for whom St. Michael's is a preferred College choice. Because of the number of students who apply to study at St. Michael's, we are not always able to admit all eligible applicants; however, we do maintain a practice of admitting all eligible applicants who we know are sons or daughters of alumni.

Information on the University of Toronto, on St. Michael's College, and on application procedures is available to Ontario students through the guidance offices of their high schools. Applicants from other Canadian provinces and from outside Canada should write to the University of Toronto's Office of Admissions and Awards (315 Bloor Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5S 1A3) for information on the University and its admission procedures, and to St. Michael's College (81 St. Mary Street, Toronto, Ontario M5S 1J4) for information about the College.

Application procedures are complex and can appear daunting at times. Both our Registrar's Office (416 926-7117) and the Office of Admissions and Awards (416 978-2771) will be happy to clarify points of procedure and, with advance notice, provide individual appointments and tours of the campus.

Applicants who indicate St. Michael's as their first choice of College in the Faculty of Arts and Science are assured a place in residence if admitted to the College. Some residence spaces are provided for professional faculty students who want to live at St. Michael's College. In recent years, all first-year applicants from Metropolitan Toronto who have been admitted to the College and have indicated an interest in residence have been accommodated. Alumni are encouraged to contact the Deans of Residence to make them aware of their son's or daughter's application and to arrange a tour of the residence. For further residence information, please call: Loretto College (for women) 416 925-2833; St. Joseph's College (for women) 416 924-2121; St. Michael's College (for men) 926-7117.

St. Michael's College tops the video charts

As members of the St. Michael's College Recruitment Committee established by Principal Joseph Boyle went about their task, they heard on several occasions from high school principals and guidance counsellors how effective a St. Michael College recruitment video, available to their students through the school libraries, could be. After some discussion, the recruitment video project was undertaken, spearheaded by St. Michael's Vice-President of Administration Sister Mechtilde O'Mara, C.S.J 5T6, Director of Development Maude McCarty, Associate Registrar Don Boere 8T5, and the then Dean of Men Alexander Reford 8T4. Faculty, staff, administration, and students worked many hours with the Toronto company "Villagers," shooting College scenes, writing scripts, being interviewed, and reviewing hours of taping for final selection.

Through picture and interview the video effectively presents the nature, spirit, and setting of the College. It has been very favourably received by those who have seen it and has been sent to each Catholic high school in the Province of Ontario, to other selected schools in Canada, in the United States, and in other countries. Ask your high-school student son or daughter if the St. Michael's video is in his or her school library.

Copies of the video are available through the St. Michael's Registrar's Office for $12.00. You might find it helpful to show your son or daughter, or other prospective St. Michael's student whose school does not have a copy!

1995 Parent Orientation Day most successful yet

"First-year parents" gather at the Kelly Library

Brunch time in the Odette Lounge during Parent Orientation Day

Sunday 24 September saw some 500 parents, family members, and friends of St. Michael's first-year students come to the campus of the college their son or daughter, brother or sister, niece or nephew had chosen as the site of a university education. Almost all the first-year students themselves had attended the special academic orientation days organized for them by the St. Michael's Principal's and Registrar's Offices in July, and they had also experienced the four-day student-organized Orientation programme in the week immediately preceding the beginning of classes. Now it was their parents' chance to become better acquainted with St. Michael's.

The day began with the 11:00 A.M. Student Mass in Sam Sorbara Hall; Father John Reddy, C.S.B., St. Michael's Chaplain, was the celebrant and homilist. John Brown 7T8, President of the St. Michael's Alumni Association, then invited the people to the alumni-sponsored brunch in the Odette Lounge and the Coop, during which parents had the opportunity to meet and visit with faculty members. The group reassembled in Sam Sorbara Hall for presentations by President Richard Alway and Professor Barry Brown on the history of the College and about the academic life of an undergraduate. Susan Adam Metzler 7T4, mother of one of last year's students, alerted the parents to what they might expect as "first-year parents" and assured them that their sons and daughters would have access to many sources of help and guidance at St. Michael's in their first university year.

Our guests, guided by faculty, staff and students, were then treated to tours of the campus and of the John M. Kelly Library, and the Parent Orientation Day concluded with the presentation of entrance scholarships and awards in a special ceremony in the Odette Lounge.

New edition of SMC Alumni Directory

The new, 1995, edition of The St. Michael's College Directory, published by the Harris Publishing Company, is completed, and the many graduates of St. Michael's who have ordered and received a copy have expressed appreciation and approval of the volume. Its fuller class lists, containing deceased and "lost" members, the family information, and the profession network section are helpful additions.

If you did not order a copy of the directory and wish to do so, call the Harris Publishing Company at 1-800-860-9093. St. Michael's does not market nor does it profit from the sale of each directory. The College does benefit greatly from the information obtained and the tracing done by the Harris Company.

Father Robert Scollard, C.S.B. Memorial Fund

The "Father Robert Scollard Memorial Fund" was established by family and friends of Fr. Scollard to honour his decades of service to St. Michael's. Interest from the fund will be used to augment the theology collection of the John M. Kelly Library, a collection whose excellence is in no small way due to Father Scollard's diligence as the St. Michael's Librarian. Donations to this fund are welcome; please send them to the Alumni Office, St. Michael's College, 81 St. St. Mary Street, Toronto, Ont. M5S 1J4. A receipt for tax purposes will be issued.

Homecoming '95 — a story of good times...and difficulties surmounted!

The planning started early, the class reps met to discuss possible events and schedules, made decisions, composed the letters of invitation, stuffed envelopes, and made phone calls. Without their hard work, Homecoming '95 would not have enjoyed the success that it did. Confusion at the central Alumni Office delayed the mailings so that information about the Saturday night dinner reached honoured years members less than two weeks before the actual date, and the dinner had to be cancelled. Then, the weather let us down on Saturday afternoon and the sports events planned were rained out. HOWEVER, over two-hundred came to the All-Alumni reception on Friday night, several alumni and alumni families braved the Saturday weather to enjoy the BBQ lunch, and the student-alumni Sunday Mass and coffee and donut hour were also well attended. So, although there were setbacks, the difficulties were surmounted, and once again, as the pictures testify, those who could attend had a good time. A committee of the Alumni Board is reviewing Homecoming; if you have any suggestions, please pass them along to the SMC Alumni Office.

1996 Michaelmas Conference to explore Catholic Life and Morality

By Peter Rzadki ST2

On the weekend of 7-9 June participants in the 1996 Michaelmas Conference will be addressing the topic of "Catholic Life and Morality Today." Although the schedule is not yet finalized, it is anticipated that such themes as morality and government; morality, life and death; children, parents and morality, and morality and conscience will be explored. The programme promises to continue the tradition of rigorous intellectual pursuit and spiritual reflection.

The Michaelmas Conference, held from its beginnings under the auspices of the Pontifical Institute of Mediaeval Studies, is an annual retreat for men who are established in their careers; it examines the many challenges presented to the individual by society and focuses on a Christian's response to these challenges in the light of the traditions and teachings of the Roman Catholic Church. The first Michaelmas Conference was held in 1952, initiated by the late William Bennett ST4 and organized with Father John Kelly, C.S.B. The Conference enjoys a continuing association with the Pontifical Institute in planning conference themes and format, and through the ongoing contributions to the Institute by the Conference membership.

Some forty to sixty members attend each year, representing a broad range of professions such as business, medicine, law, government, education, and clergy. The two-day week-end programme is presented on the St. Michael's College campus and includes conference sessions, daily Mass, meals, and the annual business meeting. Participants are welcome and encouraged to live in the St. Michael's students residence for the weekend.

Those interested in becoming members of the Michaelmas Conference, or wishing more information about it, are welcome to call Brian O'Malley at 416-926-7288 or Peter Rzadki at 416-766-2936.

North American and beyond. Our role in catholic education has never, in my opinion, been more needed. It will be St. Michael's graduates in the next century who, grounded in a true understanding of our Faith, will be called upon to help provide leadership for our Church at the parish and regional levels."

In announcing President Alway's re-appointment Father Barringer thanked him for his "service to St. Michael's in so many ways, including those not known to everyone," and added, "I look forward to the growth and development of the University of St. Michael's College under your leadership during the years to come."

The Board of Directors of the St. Michael's Alumni Association, joined by the alumni and alumnae, share Father Barringer's sentiments and hopes, and look forward to their continuing, mutually supportive relationship with President Alway.
